~	Information
	Discussion
	Decision
Do	cument Autho	r Angus Boxall – NRC Vice Chair 2016

One of my favourite quotes is "The best laid plans of mice and men often go awry." That's to say that, we need to be prepared to deviate from a plan when the plan no longer serves its purpose. The last twelve months have seen us do that a few times. Fortunately, we're all here now; which means we're doing alright.

I recall, this time last year, someone asked me why I ran for Vice Chair of the National Rover Council, to which I responded, "To get my hands dirty." Only now do I realise how true that came to be. Certainly, the last twelve months have been challenging, but a whole lot of fun. I've been fortunate enough to meet and work with some interesting and incredibly capable members of the Rover section and wider Scouting movement and we've accomplished a lot.

This year has seen the National Rover Council maintain several ongoing programs with the likes of Crew Challenge, Moot Buddies and Roverscope. Both Moot Buddies and Crew Challenge came and went in 2016, while Roverscope is in it for the long haul. Moot Buddies received 15 applications. Of those, 11 were supported. I'd like to thank Luke Saunders, Bec Collins, Bek Hobbs and Leah Bach for helping on the selection. A set of recommendations for Moot Buddies will be provided for the Councils consideration in a later report. Crew Challenge saw 5 nominations, two from Tasmania and NSW and one from ACT. As a result, it was decided to allow all applications to be eligible for the major prize. At the time of writing, the major winner has not been established. During the year, Kelsey Reid was appointed as the Roverscope Coordinator for AV2018. This program will run through 2017, in 2018 for the duration for AV2018 and a short time afterwards.

It pains me to say, but I feel the projects I handled suffered in 2016, especially towards the end of the year, however, I'll discuss that later in the report. Two projects of note are resupplying the "I want to be a Rover" woggles and reforming the PR & Marketing Group. Unfortunately, neither of these could be considered complete. In terms of the woggles, depending on whether we want to change the design as originally proposed by Victoria, the only thing that remains is to recreate the artwork to be sent to manufacturers. After this point the final price will be set and the stock will become available on the Scout Shop. As for the PR & Marketing Group, the last two meetings saw only 2 people other than myself in attendance. While I believe that this is an important function of the NRC, I think we need to reconsider how we operate this group to better engage members. However, it's not all doom and gloom; Catriona Houston has been taking great strides in the Centenary of Rovers project. Having formed a team in 2016, she's now moving to plan all the celebrations in anticipation for 2018. Word on the street is there'll be cake. On a micro scale, the NRC Social at The Moot was successful. I've heard several positive comments and I hope that all those who attended enjoyed themselves.

Of note in 2016 was the resignation of our Chair, Ben Cherry-Smith and our Secretary Michael Ford. Neither of these positions were filled and remained vacant after their resignation. This left quite a lot of work remaining in addition to the portfolios of Lizz and I. Some tasks, including some of the above projects fell on the backburner due to reprioritising our objectives. I can only apologise for this and hope to see these projects picked up again as early as possible.

Personally, I've been very fortunate to attend Rover events in Queensland, New South Wales, the Australian Capital Territory and Victoria throughout 2016. It was great to meet some of the Rovers that make up our section and see the commitment they have in everything they do.

These last twelve month have seen their ups and downs, but with every set back is a chance to learn and with every chance to learn is a chance to improve. Hopefully, these last twelve months have served to improve the council for many years to come.

Thanks for a great year.

This group has been formed from the Rover training discussion group (mentioned below), and is being run by John Hooper (SA). This group was formed prior to the last remote meeting. They have recently split into two groups - one for basic and one for advanced, and are currently collecting some more information. For this group to really progress and make tracks into their desired outcome, they would very much benefit from a face to face meeting; please refer to my paper for more information.

• Training Discussion Group

Was run again this year, some great discussions came out of this. Discussions from this group were also taken to NTC to actually represent rover training from across the country. I fully recommend that whoever takes on this roll in the future continues these great discussions.

• Development Discussion Group

Attempted to start a development discussion team. Unfortunately this didn't get started due to lack of interest. This was quite disappointing to be honest, as it was something that the branches expressed an interest in. Again, it would be good to see if this can get started this coming year.

• Train the Trainer meeting - Sydney

Jack Caddy attended this meeting in my place, thanks Jack. This weekend discussed the proposed new structure of Adult training to fit in better with the One Program for youth sections, involving a move away from sectional specific training to a more holistic approach of LOY and LOA. Some points from the weekend are below:

 Training to move away from the Leadership VET stream and slightly focus more on Workplace Supervisor skill sets to enable SAIT to continue to deliver modules in house and to conform more to what is really required from our Adults in Scouting.

- An assessment of the skills required of our Adults in Scouting and how current training structures need to be modified to accommodate this.
- The strong suggestion for PLAs to be removed and replaced by all woodbadged leaders.
- Clearer pathways defined for National Training Team appointments including updated training through a Course for potential Assistant Leader Trainers, Course for potential Leader Trainers and related eLearning.

• Outdoor Adventure Skills Discussion Weekend

I was also unable to attend this meeting due to uni, so Matt Court from ACT attended in my place. I have paraphrased the main parts of the report Matt prepared for me, however should you wish to view the whole report, please let me know.

- The focus of the weekend was to discuss the Outdoor Adventure Skill Badges for the YPR; the latest draft of the badges includes campcraft, bushcraft, emergencies and bushwalking as the core areas, and alpine, cycling, boating, paddling and vertical as the elective areas.
- Recommendations from the weekend include
 - Emergencies should be split up between the other core areas, and Aquatic should take the place in core areas which includes water safety and lifeguarding, branching off to snorkelling, scuba and surfing.
 - Campcraft should be called camping and cover standing camps and major event camp skills. Bushcraft should include more of the pioneering skills and natural scouting activities. Bushwalking would be lightweight camping and hiking.

From here the team is looking for technical experts who would be interesting in reviewing the next draft of the OAS area of their interest. Current lists of technical experts do not include any youth members. If you are interested in being a part of this review process in one or more area, please contact myself or your Branch Adventurous Activities Commissioner.

• National Training Committee

I was actually able to attend this meeting myself! Main points to note are:

- The Training Needs Analysis was presented to the NTC, they were all really pleased with the work Sam and I completed last year, and are really enthusiastic with the way forward from here.
- The bushwalking paper discussed at NRC in January was not accepted by the NTC.
- eLearning now has an automated email function examples of why you will receive one of these emails include: completed a module, completed all required modules, haven't logged on in a while, haven't completed modules, ect.

Please don't hesitate to contact me regarding any of the above points should you require any further information.

Item Title	Exe	Executive Reports - NRC Adviser
Document Author		Gavin Brady

Following the application and interview process I was appointed in late April and invested into the role by the NRC Chairman in June 2016.

I was excited to take up the role and looked forward to a new opportunity to contribute to the support and development of the Rover Section; this time in a national capacity.

My previous Scouting and Rover experience includes being an active crew member, leadership of Rover activities, Branch Rover Council Chair, Scout Leader, Assistance Branch Commissioner Rovers, Branch Youth Forum Co-ordinator, Branch Commissioner Rovers along with attending 9 or 10 NRC's and 7 National / International Rover Moots.

The handover with the previous adviser Chris "DRIFT" Wood took longer than hoped for with Chris being oversees, but we spoke several time and eventually met for a face to face handover in Brisbane in July.

Since then I've also spoken with several of the BC/Advisers along with the first NRC Adviser Leah Bach, all of which has been immensely helpful in trying to get up to speed with what's happening, etc Nationally and in various Branches.

In July there was a face to face executive meeting, which given the timing of my taking up the role "post" the January 2016 NRC and usual Exec handover meeting around March, was an opportunity I was extremely appreciative of to personally meet the other members of the NRC Executive who I hadn't met before.

It was a constructive meeting, discussing progress on agenda items from the Jan NRC meeting along with new ideas for the rest of the term.

On a disappointing note the year was marked by two resignations. In May Michael Ford resigned as NRC Secretary and in September the NRC Chair Ben Cherry Smith resigned.

I wish to take this opportunity to thank both Michael and Ben for being willing to taking on NRC roles, for their contribution to NRC and the wider Rover section, I also wishing them the very best in any future Scouting and Non-Scouting roles they choose to undertake.

In an executive of four, two resignations in a single term is a significant event and something for reflection on by all members of the council.

Are the roles we create well defined, do people understand the time commitment and other pressures associated with these roles, do we provide the right support once people are elected?

The Scout method is about learning through doing; no-one is ever going to be perfect, each person will approach each role with their own leadership style and make their own unique contribution.

NRC roles are a fantastic leadership and development opportunity for Rovers. In my mole as Adviser I commit to do my best to support and assist as required any Rover willing to take up the challenge of an NRC role in this and future terms.

Following Bens resignation, the executive discussed various courses of action for the remainder of the term including wider consultation with other BRC's by the deputy Chair. As a result Angus tookup the acting chair position for the remainder of the term.

I wish to thank Angus for stepping up to the acting Chair role and Liz for working together with Angus to ensure things kept happening for the rest of the term. BRAVO - Well done to both of you!

It's been great to be back at NRC this year and even more I look forward to working with and supporting the new executive in the new term.

Х	Information

	Decision
Do	cument Autho	r Moot Buddies Panel
Str	ategic Alignme	nt

Background

Moot Buddies was established to provide financial assistance to eligible Rovers who may otherwise be unable to participate in the National Moot held every three years. A levy of $1.00 per Rover is collected by the National Rover Council each year in order to fund the Moot Buddies Scheme. Applications for Moot Buddies may be submitted by any Rover and the amount of financial assistance provided to an individual is determined by a Moot Buddies Review Panel convened by the sitting NRC Vice Chairman. There is no limit to the number of Applications that may be wholly or partially funded so long as the overall funding cap (based on the financial performance of the scheme over the last three years) is not breached.

Moot Buddies Review Panel

In the lead up to 'The Moot', Angus Boxall as NRC Vice Chairman convened a Moot Buddies Review Panel to consider Applications for Financial Assistance from eligible Rovers under the Moot Buddies scheme. A total of 15 applications for financial assistance were received from Rovers in Australia which is a substantial increase on previous National Moot's where there have been as few as two or three applications. For 'The Moot' a pool of up to $8,405 was available to the Review Panel for distribution to Applicants.

In addition to the NRC Vice Chairman, the Review Panel consisted of a Branch Commissioner for Rovers and three experienced Rovers who have been currently or previously involved with NRC in some capacity. A total of four States were represented with three females and two males sitting on the Review Panel. It was agreed during initial discussions that all decisions would be made unanimously rather than by voting.

Application Process

Applications for Moot Buddies were completed by Applicants on a paper form which required endorsement from their Crew Leader, RRC Chair where applicable and BRC Chair. The endorsed application was then forwarded to the NRC Vice Chairman by email. The Crew Leader and BRC Chair were not expected to assess whether the Applicant deserved Moot Buddies, rather they were indicating whether the Applicant was a suitable individual to be offered financial assistance if the Review Panel awarded it to them. This process had several issues for some Applicants:

- The BRC Chair was sometimes difficult to meet in person in order to get the Application Form endorsed
- The Applicant had to expose sensitive personal information to their Crew Leader and BRC Chair (including financial position, family circumstances, etc.) when these individuals did not need to know this information
- The NRC Vice Chairman was not easily able to track Applications for Moot Buddies as some were submitted by the Applicant, some by the BRC Chair, there were different subject lines used in emails, one was submitted by paper form, etc.

Recommendation: That the NRC consider adopting an online application process in time for 'CBR Moot' in 2020.

Application Form

A number of Applicants left one or more questions on the Application Form blank which made it difficult to assess their suitability to receive financial assistance through the Moot Buddies scheme. In addition, multiple Applicants provided very vague answers to one or more questions which also made it difficult to objectively assess their Application.

Despite the Application Form asking for Referees who are "not your best mates", some Applicants used direct familial relations and/or family friends as their Referees. It is important that these Referees are independent of the Applicant in order for the Review Panel to make an impartial assessment of the Application.

Finally, the wording of some Application Questions should be made more specific to assist the Review Panel in making a fully informed decision on the Application. For example, "Are you currently working? Please provide details:" should perhaps be changed to a multi-part question similar to the following:

- Are you currently working? (Yes/No)
 - If yes, please select your employment type (FT, PT, Casual, Contractor, etc.)
 - \circ If not FT, please specify the average number of hours worked per week
 - o Please provide your weekly income in whole dollars

This specific information, in addition to information on the Applications study status, family situation (living at home or out of home, single parents, etc.) will help the Review Panel to assess each individual's capacity to contribute to their attendance at the National Moot. As it stands, the current Application Form would allow an individual who was living at home with an income of $100,000+ per year to obtain Moot Buddies funding if they provide a vague enough answer to the current question.

Recommendation: That the NRC consider changes to the Application Form and its questions. Such changes would include a requirement to answer all questions, an explicit requirement that all Referees are not related to the Applicant and more specific wording for every question to ensure that Moot Buddies funding is targeted to those who truly need it.

Doc	ument Author	2018 Rover Centennial Working Group Chairman

KEY POINTS

It has been an exciting first year leading the 2018 Rover Centennial working group. After my appointment in January, I used the first few months of 2016 to conceptualise the ideas I briefly explored in my application. There are four major themes that I decided to focus on throughout our Centennial celebrations; past, present, future and service. I placed an importance on working towards creating a framework for the Centennial celebrations that engaged all Australian Rovers.

At the end of May, applications to join the working group were released. I was extremely impressed with the quality of the applications, and the enthusiasm from the Rovers I interviewed. I was surprised and slightly disappointed that Victorian Rovers far outnumbered any other state in applications, as I made a particular effort to contact BRC chairs and promote on the National Rover Facebook page to recruit Rovers in other states. Therefore, my executive team and the majority of my working group are Victorian. It is essential that all states contribute to the Centennial celebrations, and I strongly encourage BRCs to become more involved in the Rover Centennial working group. Contributions across all branches will provide a more cohesive experience for our Centennial year.

I am proud of how productive my team have been since their appointments in August, especially my executive who have supported my leadership and inspired the working group. We look forward to presenting our key concepts, the Centennial Moot and the Service100 Award, to NRC and BRC representatives to gain your feedback and keen insight about how to best engage your Rovers in the 2018 Rover Centennial celebrations. Please join myself and the working group deputy to workshop these concepts. This celebration is a key milestone in the history of Rovering and Scouting in general. Your involvement is absolutely crucial in ensuring that we successfully bring all the nation's Rovers together for this once in a generation experience. I urge you to look at this project as an opportunity to further Rovering within your state, the country and into the general community. Please give us the support that this undertaking requires.

As we meet as NRC in the early days of 2017, the countdown to our Centennial year in 2018 begins. It's time you got on board and encourage the Rovers you represent. I look forward to BRC chairs getting in contact with me and my team with ideas, feedback and contributions. 2018 will be an exciting year for Australian Rovers of our past, present and future and your increased cooperation will make it a fantastic year for all.

KEY POINTS

The new BPS and APS has been developed over the last year, as a recommendation from the Training Needs Analysis in 2016. The new BPS and APS are attached, and the request is for NRC to support the progression to NTC in 2017.

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council;

- 1. Support the attached Basic and Advanced Practical Supplement in its progression to the National Training Committee Conference in 2017.
- Provide up to $1 500 from the NRC Development Fund for Lizz Affleck (outgoing NRC T&D Officer), John Hooper (Project officer, Rover Training Review) and two persons from the Rover Training Review Team, to attend the National Training Committee (NTC) meeting (ACT, 2017), to present the BPS and APS for approval, and subsequent implementation into the Rover training curriculum.

COMMENT

In 2015 myself and Sam Roald as the NRC T&D Officers undertook the National Rover Training Needs Analysis. This analysis was undertaken as it had been several decades since any significant review of the Rover Training Curriculum was last completed. As the next step in the review of the Rover Curriculum, a working group was formed to draft a new practical supplements which took on the recommendations from the Training Needs Analysis.

This working group was formed from Rovers, Rover Trainers and Rover Advisers from across the country, headed up by John Hooper (SA). Through online meetings and one face-to-face meeting, this BPS and APS was created to its current form.

There will be workshops on both the BPS and APS throughout the NRC Conference weekend.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATIONS

Up to $1500 as requested in the actions section above.

lten	n Title	Training Requirements for NRC Chair
	Information

Χ	Decision
Doc	ument Author	Victoria

INTRODUCTION

Minimum standards for executive teams are now common practice across many organisations in Australia, including Scouting. In 2015, the NRC adopted to include basic training as a minimum standard for the NRC Chair and Vice Chair roles. We propose that the NRC should now go a step further and require that the Chair has completed their Wood Badge, to ensure that we are being led by the best qualified team possible.

Victoria has a similar policy to the one this paper proposes for their BRC Office Bearers and the Chairs of sub-committees (see Attachment B). After its introduction, they witnessed an immediate change with Rovers completing their training before nominating for positions. This requirement helps to ensure the quality of the team is maintained to a high standard each year.

COMMENT

We see it as appropriate that the Chair is required to have completed their Wood Badge. A wood beaded Rover has a greater knowledge of the functions of the Rover section, and can therefore contribute more effectively to a quality program. Additionally, advanced courses provide training on how to interact with other adults in difficult situations. This is important knowledge for the NRC Chair, whose main day-to-day tasks involve representing the views of Rovers at meetings which are predominantly attended by non-Rover aged adults in Scouting. As the NRC is the highest body of Rover representation in Australia, we should be leading by example and ensuring that our chair is also trained to the highest level.

When a similar requirement was proposed at the 2015 conference, there was concern over the ability of smaller Branches to be able to access advanced training courses. However, we believe that this proposal should not be a barrier to Rovers from a smaller Branch, because of the availability of funds to assist Rovers in flying interstate to attend training courses – as noted by the NRC Executive at the 2015 conference. We are proposing that this is explicitly stated in the NRC By Laws so that this intention is formally recognised and recorded. In this way, Branches can be confident that anyone who wishes to nominate for NRC Chair will not be disadvantaged by their location.

Of note is that the 2013, 2014, 2015 & 2016 NRC Executive have all been compatible with this proposal, so this should not complicate the nomination and election process in the future; this decision should just formalise a practice that has generally been adopted.

By adopting a proposal such as this, the NRC is recognising that Rover Scouts completing leadership training offered by the association is an effective method to ensure that Australian Rovering is led by young adults who are knowledgeable in the aims, methods, principles and practices of Scouts Australia.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

1. Money is made available through the Rover Development Fund to assist all Rovers who do not have an upcoming training course scheduled in their Branch to participate in another Branch's basic or advanced course.

ATTACHMENTS

Attachment A – Item 14 from 2012 conference minutes

Attachment B – Victorian Rover Council Policy T-4-0 "Training Requirements for Positions".

ACTION REQUESTED

- 1. Amend the NRC By Laws to state that nominees for the NRC Chairman position are to have attained the Wood Badge and completed their Advanced Training in the Rover Scout Section.
- 2. Update the NRC By Laws to state that "for Rovers who are unable to attend a basic or advanced course in their Branch, the Rover Development Fund will provide the necessary funds to facilitate this".

INTRODUCTION

At the NRC's inception, the executive had a 'Training Officer'. Following the creation of the National Commissioner Adult Training and Development, the NRC Training Officer's title was amended by the council to reflect this new role. Victoria believes that this should be amended back to its original form, and now be the 'NRC Training Officer' for the reasons outlined below.

COMMENT

The current name and role description implies that the NRC Training and Development Officer (NRC T&D Officer) will complete action items which relate to both portfolios. However, in practice, the NRC T&D Officer has usually picked one of development or training, and focused solely on this for their term. To increase accountability for both training and development in the Rover section, Victoria believes that the development should be realigned to the Vice Chair's role description. This places the onus on a specific person to focus on this. The Vice Chair is responsible for administrating and managing NRC projects through the NRC Project Officers. These projects are predominantly relating to the development of the section. We see the result of these changes being the NRC Vice Chair creates ideas for development projects based off recommendations from NRC meetings, and then manages the implementation of these ideas through the NRC Project Officers. This also ensures that there is always one member of the executive focused on improvements to Rover Training.

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council;

- 1. Amend the NRC Training and Development Officer's title in the By Laws to 'NRC Training Officer'.
- Amend the NRC Training and Development Officer's role description in the By Laws to replace the words "training and development" to just "training". This will read:

"will ensure that they:

- promote the concept of training-and development generally to the Rovers of Australia;
- chair any training and development related workshops that may be held during meetings of the NRC;

- obtains reports from all BRCs on their participation in training-and development;
- produces relevant agenda items, reports etc. for all meetings of the NRC Executive;
- tables a written report on their actions at meetings of the NRC; and
- attends meetings of the National Training Committee."
- 3. Amend the NRC Vice Chair's role description in the By Laws to read: "will ensure that they:
 - assist the NRC Chair in the carrying out of their duties;
 - takes over those duties in the absence of the NRC Chair;
 - act as a proxy for the NRC Chair as requested or appointed;
 - carries out duties as requested by the NRC Chair, or by the NRC Executive;
 - presents business on behalf of the NRC Executive at meetings of the NRC;
 - presents income and expenditure statements of all NRC funds to each meeting of the NRC;
 - coordinates and maintains Rover public relations and marketing;
 - updates the Bylaws for the NRC following each meeting of the NRC;
 - oversees the creation of projects relating to development in conjunction with branches; and
 - works with NRC Project Officers to administer and manage development projects."

Ite	m Title	2018 Rover Centennial Face to Face Meeting Tender

Х	Decision
Do	cument Autho	r 2018 Rover Centennial Working Group Chairman

Introduction

Proposed Date:

Proposed Location:	Camp Warringal, 340 Bruces Creek Rd, W	hittlesea VIC
Transport Considerations	:: To/From Airport to Camp Warringal	– Approx. 50 min

Catering: Saturday Breakfast – Sunday Lunch provided.

COMMENT

The 2018 Rover Centennial Working Group executive team believe hosting a face-to-face meeting will enable the 2018 Centennial Working Group to make considerably more progress towards our goals with a weekend conference, compared to our monthly remote meetings. We will base our working weekend at Camp Warringal, located a short drive from Whittlesea on the outskirts of Melbourne. The main focus of the weekend will be to consolidate our work towards 2018 Rover Centennial celebrations, driven with progress based goals. The weekend conference will also allow BRCs further opportunity to work with the working group to ensure the 2018 Rover Centennial program is suitable for their Rovers.

Two thirds of the 2018 Rover Centennial Working Group are based in Victoria and therefore holding the conference in Melbourne would reduce the funds required to bring the working group together. In order to keep the weekend at low cost to NRC, inexpensive catering for the weekend will be organised through a local rover crew or other interested rovers. Location facilities and other information can be viewed on the website at https://www.vicscouts.com.au/camp-warringal.html

Participants of weekend conference to include 9 Rovers in Rover Centennial Working Group, 3 Rover Advisers in Rover Centennial Working Group, and 1 delegate from every state as nominated by their BRC. In total, 20 participants attending the weekend conference.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

Preliminary Budget: (Per Person)

Transport: Accommodation: Catering: Total: *see note $15 $50 $65

* $1,500 from National Rover Council (estimated return flights 3 x Sydney @ $300 p.p., 1 x Perth @ $600 p.p.) These figures are for 2018 Rover Centennial Working Group only.

 Excludes airfares.

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council; 1. Approve this tender.

Item Title		Funding for Rover Training
	Information
	Discussion
Х	Decision
Do	cument Autho	r NRC Training and Development Officer and NT Branch
Str	ategic Alignme	nt Training

Until very recently, there has only been one Rover crew within the Northern Territory. Due to this, training the Rover section within the territory has been a low priority, due to the lack of trainers to train it, and the Rover population to support the need. Rovers within the Northern Territory are disadvantaged compared to the rest of the country, due to their distance from other capitals, the cost of flights to other capitals, and the size of their rover population.

Within the last few years, the South Australian Branch has been assisting the Northern Territory with presenting training to their Rover population. Last year NRC approved funding to assist in supporting the SA/NT Rover Training relationship, which provided a successful Rover Basic Training Course run in November.

This paper is requesting a continuation of funding to allow South Australia to continue this relationship to train the Northern Territorian Rovers.

ACTION REQUESTED

- Provide funding for up to four individuals (Rovers, Rover Advisers and/or Rover Trainers) to travel by plane, between Adelaide and Darwin; capped at $2500 total for all four.
- 2. Provide funding for additional course materials and expenses as required (including butchers paper, textas ect); capped at $500 total.
- 3. If successful again in 2017, consider funding again at NRC 2018.

COMMENT

In recent years, the only Rover Basic training courses held in the Northern Territory have been run by South Australian Trainers. The Rovers that have had the opportunity to attend these courses have all gained significant knowledge that has assisted the NT in their further development.

In 2016, South Australia supported one training course to be run in the NT in the first half of the year, and the NRC funded training course was run in November of 2017. This has resulted in a significant increase in the amount of NT Rovers trained to a basic level.

As several basic courses have now been run in the NT, this proposed funding could be used to present another basic course, or an advanced course, dependant on the requirements.

If this funding is approved, it could be used to fly 4 trainers from Adelaide to Darwin to present training, or 4 rovers down to Adelaide to participate in training, dependant on the need at the time. However, due to the current interest in training in NT at the moment, it is foreseen that this money would be used to present a course in Darwin for the Rovers there.

As in 2016, if successful, it is anticipated that there will be another paper at the NRC conference each year requesting financial assistance until Rovers in Darwin can support their own training.

FINANCIAL IMPLICATION

Provide funding for up to four individuals (Rovers, Rover Advisers and/or Rover Trainers) to travel by plane, between Adelaide and Darwin; capped at $2500 total for all four, with an additional $500 for course materials and expenses as required.

- Rovers and Scouts in Australia do not have a nationally consistent approach to including transgender, gender-non-conforming and intersex youth at events
- The NRC should strive to support better inclusion of transgender, gendernon-conforming and intersex people at a national level through
 - BRCs
 - NOC/NEC
 - National events

ACTION REQUESTED

- 1. Support National Rover events to be inclusive to transgender , gender-nonconfirming and inter-sex youth (as per guidelines in comment section)
- 2. Recommend to NOC/NEC that national documentation is updated to formally acknowledge transgender, gender-non-conforming youth and intersex in accommodation, child protection, and ablutions policies. In addition, recommend the formal adoption of the UK Scout Association guidelines regarding transgender, gender-non-confirming and intersex youth.
- 3. Encourage all Branch Rover Councils to implement similar policies and guidelines where appropriate within their states/territories

COMMENT

From the UK "The Scout Association" guidelines on "Gender identity: Supporting young people":

"How do I make my Section inclusive?

•Avoid gender stereotyping (e.g. boys like football, girls like the colour pink).

- •When addressing the whole Section/Unit, gender neutral terms will help to support an open and inclusive environment. For example, use "hello everybody" instead of "hello gentlemen" or talking to a group of female Scouts as "ladies".
- •Don't split young people by gender in any activities.
- •Allow young people to express their identity freely and don't make assumptions.

How can I support a young person who is transgender or questioning their gender identity?

•Be led by the young person, and, where supportive, the parents/carers. Be aware of the possibility that parents/carers may have their own prejudices or may be unaware of how the young person feels.

•Listen to and accept what the young person is telling you, without judgement. Reassure them and explain that there are other young people who have these feelings; including those in Scouting. Refer on to organisations like Mermaids if needed.

• Be vigilant at looking for signs of bullying. Treat this in the same way as any other bullying, following our anti-bullying policy and using our anti-bullying resources. It may be that effectively raising young people's understanding of gender identity issues will prevent or eliminate any bullying.

•Find out whether or not the young person is happy for others to know that they are transgender. Respect the young person's rights and privacy, and reassure of complete confidentiality; do not tell others without their consent.

•Don't ask for information about what medical treatment they have had unless you need to ask for a valid reason.

•Ensure when addressing the young person that you use their preferred gender, name and pronouns. Deal with any mistakes sensitively, correcting by use of the young person's preferred name.

•If the young person change's their name / gender during their time in Scouting, ensure you change all records. You do not need any evidence or proof to do so.

•It is important to treat the young person as a member of their true gender, whilst protecting them and all young people from vulnerable situations. Be aware that the young person will not want to appear different from their peers and to avoid causing any embarrassment. Don't let their gender identity become a frequent talking point.

• Conduct any conversations in an appropriate environment and in accordance with the Yellow Card.

Will I need to adapt activities?

• If you have young people who are binding their chests, monitor them carefully during particularly physical activities (such as rock climbing) and hot temperatures. There is a chance that the binding could cause discomfort or even impair breathing, and it may be necessary to subtly offer more breaks.

•Special considerations will be needed around water-based activities such as swimming. Plan ahead and discuss with the young person/parent in advance.

•Be aware that the young person may want to wear layers of clothing to conceal their body.

What toilets should the young person use?

•Unisex toilet facilities are preferable but often not available. Always be led by the preferences of the young person, around which facilities they feel most comfortable and safe using. Ideally, this would be a cubicle in facilities of their true gender, but they may wish to use the accessible/disabled toilet as an alternative. If using the accessible/disabled toilet is the young person's preferred option, refer to and label toilets appropriately (e.g. 'unisex/accessible toilets' rather than 'disabled')

•Be aware that young trans people may have a lot of anxiety around using toilet facilities, and may even avoid using the toilet or drinking. This can lead to ill health, so it is important to be aware of this and provide reassurance if needed, reminding that they can use whichever facilities they find most comfortable and at any time.

What about nights away, camps and trips?

•Discuss options well in advance with the young person and others involved, whilst protecting the young person's right to privacy. The principle is to make sure that everyone is comfortable with the arrangements. Be sensitive to the needs of the young person; avoid making them feel singled out or not respected.

•As with all young people, confirm whether the young person is on any medication that they will need to take.

•Consider having one named Leader who is aware of the young person's biological sex and any treatment/medication they are on, who could provide support if medical treatment is needed. Ask the young person who they wish the leader to be; regardless of the leader's gender.

•How can I manage the sleeping arrangements? There is no rule in Scouting stating that young people must be split by gender for sleeping arrangements. Sleeping arrangements should be carefully planned, assessing the needs and ages of young people, and any risks. A young person may be binding their chests or wearing very tight underwear to flatten themselves. The chance to privately remove this clothing overnight is very important.

Some options to consider, risk assess and discuss with the young person/family, are as follows:

•Sharing with other young people of their true gender (or their biological sex if they would prefer), either in large or small tents with their trusted friends.

•Large tents with various sleeping compartments, discretely allocating the young person their own compartment for privacy. •Having their own tent / room.

• What about toilets, showers and changing facilities? Wherever possible, select a venue that has separate shower and changing cubicles, and unisex toilet facilities (see guidance around toileting above). Monitor the young person during the event to check that they are not avoiding drinking or using toilets. They may wish to use the facilities when everybody else is busy doing a different activity.

- Rovers and Scouts in Australia do not have a nationally consistent approach to acknowledging traditional land owners (local Indigenous Australians)
- An "Acknowledgement of Country" is a simple way to fix this.
- The NRC should strive to support better recognition and inclusion of Aboriginal and Torres Straight Islander people at a national level through
 - BRCs
 - NOC/NEC
 - National events

ACTION REQUESTED

- Ensure an 'Acknowledgement of Country' is included at all national Rover Section events (meetings, opening/closing of events). Where possible, a request/invitation for a Welcome to Country from the local Aboriginal or Torres Straight Islander people should also be included.
- 2. Recommend to NOC/NEC that national policy is updated to include a requirement for an Acknowledgement of Country at all appropriate occasions. Where possible, a request/invitation for a Welcome to Country from the local Aboriginal or Torres Straight Islander people should also be included.
- 3. Recommend to NOC/NEC that the Reconciliation Statement, as drafted in the SABRC D&I paper, is adopted and displayed where relevant on national media

4. Encourage all Branch Rover Councils to implement similar Acknowledgements of Country where appropriate within their states/territories

COMMENT

From the SABRC D&I recommendations:

"As demographic data is not collected in a formal fashion within Scouting in Australia, there is anecdotal evidence to suggest that the Scouting context in Australia is mainly centred on 'white Australia' and does not branch out too far into other communities. There are some exceptions notably with the creation and success of specialist cultural Scout Groups, however these are few and far between and are generally isolationist.

Taken directly from Australians Together, a Welcome to Country is a ceremony performed by Indigenous Australian Elders to welcome visitors to their traditional land. It can take many forms, including singing, dancing, smoke ceremonies or a speech, depending on the particular culture of the Traditional Owners.

While;

An Acknowledgement of Country involves visitors acknowledging the original Indigenous custodians of the land and their long and continuing relationship with their Country. It is a way of showing awareness of and respect for the original Indigenous custodians of the land on which an event is being held. An Acknowledgment of Country can be formal or informal and, unlike a Welcome to Country, can be delivered by a non-Indigenous person."

Suggested text for an Acknowledgment of Country:

I would like to show my respect and acknowledge the traditional custodians of this land (the <people> people of <nation> nation, and their elders past and present, on which <the event in question> operates.

Suggested text for Reconciliation Statement:

Scouts Australia acknowledges that the Aboriginal People are the original custodians of Australia and the land on which (it/the Rover Section) operates and maintains its presence. (Scouts Australia/The Rover Scout Section) acknowledges the historical impact of colonisation and its continuing effects, and is committed to the Council for Aboriginal Reconciliation vision: 'A united Australia which respects this land of ours; values the Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander heritage; and provides justice and equity for all'. (Scouts Australia/The Rover Scout Section) is committed to equity and diversity where the rich cultures of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islanders are taught, supported and celebrated.

- Better coordination and resource sharing is recommended to improve outcomes and avoid re-doing large portions of work

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council;

1. Establish and formalise a Diversity and Inclusion working group

COMMENT

The SA BRC has created an exemplary resource to improve the diversity and inclusion (D&I) of Rovering in the SA Branch. Other branches also have D&I commissioners, BRC subcommittees, and responsible Rovers. Informal cooperation is already occurring, and it would be beneficial to move these activities under the NRC as a working group in order to coordinate efforts and communicate outcomes and opportunities.

The working group would also be expected to extend the existing recommendations made by the SABRC and support their expansion to the NOC/NEC where applicable, under the guidance of the NRC (Vice Chair and Council)

Messengers of Peace is a world program that would benefit from Rover Scouts Contributing greatly to the program. This fits in with Rovers motto of service, and through this program offers a focus on Community Involvement. This paper askes the National Rover Council Branch Members to consider adding a Messenger of Peace coordinator into their Rover Program Team of their Branch Rover Council.

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council;

1. Each Branch Rover Council add a member to their Branch Rover Program Team (or equivalent) with the title Branch Messenger of Peace Coordinator – Rovers.

COMMENT

In 2016 each branch has been asked to appoint a Branch Messenger of Peace Coordinator. Rovers as the final youth section are able to contribute greatly to their community, and though a Branch Rover Messengers of Peace coordinator this can be promoted and coordinated in a targeted approach.

Messengers of Peace focuses on Peace education, peace culture, local communities and Scouts impact in that Community. Scouts already has a community focus, and it is through this program their becomes a target message for promotion of scouts and provides some purpose to our activities.

Please kindly consider the recommendation and participate in the program in your branch.

SCOUTS AUSTRALIA NATIONAL ROVER COUNCIL Conference 7-9 January 2016 Rowallan, VIC

Iten	n Title	Abolishment of Crew Challenge
	Information
	Discussion
Χ	Decision
Doc	cument Author	Victoria

INTRODUCTION

The Crew Challenge competition currently run by the National Rover Council has low level of engagement with crews across the country, this has been noted by previous NRC Vice Chairs in 2014 & 2015. The cost to the NRC this year was $950. Victoria believes that the level of participation from Rovers across Australia does not reflect a want or a need for this competition to continue running into the future. Furthermore, the funds spent on this competition may be better utilised to enhance the Rover program through other projects.

COMMENT

Rovering's Greatest Adventure preceded Crew Challenge, and was run until the end of 2014. At the 2015 NRC Conference, it was decided that Crew Challenge would be developed and launched that year. At the 2015 and 2016 conferences, it was accepted that the success of Crew Challenge shall be reviewed at the following conference.

At the end of the inaugural Crew Challenge, only one crew nationally had successfully completed the challenge. Both the 2014 and 2015 NRC Vice Chairs noted the lack of participation from Rovers, and mentioned that monetary prizes had proven to be inefficient at engaging Rovers to participate in the past (Attachments A and B). The 2016 NRC conference reviewed and workshopped Crew Challenge, and decided that the main barrier to participation was the strict eligibility and report requirements. The workshop concluded that having Branch winners alongside a national winner, specifying that the challenge may link into a BPSA project, and extending the competition closing dates could increase the number of entries received (Attachment C). The 2015 NRC Vice Chair suggested a new model for Crew Challenge, which was accepted by the 2016 conference. This new model simplified the entry process so that the only requirement was that a crew participates in an activity, and then promotes this somewhere (social media, local paper, etc.).

The 2016 NRC Vice Chair ran this competition with the simplified challenge rules, and the topic was Venturer Retention. The competition was widely advertised through BRCs and the Rovers Australia Facebook page. All that was required of crews to officially enter the competition was to fill in a google document with a few specific questions about the activity. The number of entries increased from 1 to 5, and spread across three Branches. However, Victoria believes that this level of participation is still not high enough to warrant further expenditure. We believe that the lack of participation indicates a general lack of interest from Rover crews, as the entry requirements were made very simple this year. Increasing the prize pool further, or further amendments to the competition are unlikely to generate much additional interest. Victoria suggests that Crew Challenge is abolished, and the 2017 Vice Chair is tasked with developing a new project to engage and challenge Rover crews to improve their program.

FINANCIAL ARRANGEMENTS

1. Remove allocation of all funding for Crew Challenge.

KEY POINTS

- Information from Organising Committee to Participants should be clear, concise and regular. It should also be in all available formats.
- Timelines regarding expedition payments should be made available a minimum of 6 months in advance (National events).
- Knowing who to contact; single point of contact on the committee to liaise with participants who then talks to the relevant person and replies to the participants.

ACTION REQUESTED

It is recommended that the National Rover Council;

1: Actively works with Organising Committees to increase fluid and accurate communication between all parties.

2: Provide adequate communication protocols to all Organising Committees that become standard practice.

3: Provide documentation to assist in succession planning for future events. This can be provided in an Event Communication guide in the format of FAQ template covering the minimum following areas; participant equipment list, expedition costs made available at least six months prior to the event.

4: Recommend that Event Management for Rovers courses are run within each state (if a National course is not applicable) to ensure consistent management for all events.

COMMENT

Without participants, events won't run, without information participants won't attend. Events stand to run the best program to the widest audience possible, at the same time they are run to create profit for the Organising Committees. Therefore having a standard communication format that is used Nationally, everybody is on the same page about how information is obtained and distributed. Thus having all Organising Committees working from the same event guide would be greatly beneficial (see attachment for example), this guide helps both first time event chairs and more experienced member to run the event smoothly.

The most common issue that has been mentioned about ineffective communication, is how much of a balance is left to pay or insufficient notice of how much was due for expeditions. This means many people were sprung with large amounts that needed to be paid.

While it is understood that communication line systems can break down, it is recommended that these systems are tested prior to being launched. If there was a standard line system across the board it would be likely that communication lines would work without as many issues.

COMMENT

The Queensland Branch Rover Council (QBRC) is confident that they can effectively run NRC following AV2018. NRC has never been hosted on the Gold Coast, so this is a fantastic way to show off our state. The proposed location is within walking distance of the beach and many dining facilities. Whilst the Gold Coast Airport is the preferred number]

location for participant transport, Brisbane Airport can also be utilised.

As AV2018 finishes on the Friday, it would be recommended that the meeting would commence on the Saturday morning to allow for participants to have a break post AV2018 and or if not attending fly in after work on the Friday evening.

The short timeframe between the end of AV2018 and the beginning of NRC will allow Rovers to minimise travel and if driving south the Gold Coast is on the way.
